DEATH OF EX-SENATOR HOWARD.

Our dispatches bring us the unwelcome tidings of the death of the distinguished statesman whose name heads this article. Jacob M. Howard was born in Vermont in 1806, and was therefore, at the time of his death, in his 65th year. He was a graduate of Williams College, Massachusetts. After a thorough study of the law in the lathe was, for many years preceding his death, recognized as an able and successful member of his profession. He was a of considerable classical polish, and in 1847 published a translation from the French of the secret memoirs of the Emo discussed, fearlessly and fairly, political of the Michigan Legislature in 1838. He was the author of the platform of the first party (in 1854) and may be said to have and persuaded to do what they never can christened that party. He was Attorney General of Michigan for six years, and a member of the 27th Congress. He took his sent in the Senate in 1862 to fill the unexpired term of Hon, K. S. Bingham, and continued a member of that body until the 4th of March last. He was recognized as one of the most vigorous and effective debaters in the Senate. Though long in pub-

A GOOD REPORT FROM CONNECTICUT.

The news from Connecticut is much more satisfactory than we anticipated. A State always close and generally Democratic in off years, we were prepared to hear of the re-election of Gov. English, of a Democratic Legislature, and of three out of the four Congressmen.

We are not likely to get news through the Washington | Southern / Associated Press Agent one whit more favorable to the Republicans than it actually is, and we are, therefore, inclined to accept his dispatches as the most favorable Democratic news that can be furnished.

The contest for Governor is very close, and it will probably require the official count to determine, but, with our present a lvices, we feel warranted in claiming the election of Marshall Jewell by a small ma-

The Legislature is probably Republican. and the Congressional delegation three Democrats to one Republican, the same as it stood in the last Congress, On the whole, we are exceedingly well satisfied with the result, and will continue to feel so, even though it should prove that English is elected by a small majority. The Republicans of Connecticut have done a splendid work, and we cheerfully accord them full praise. In the midst of dissensions and general apathy, they have nobly sustained themselves, and stood unflinehingly by their guns.

THE SUCCESS OF THE VERSALLES GOVERN-

The Constituent Assembly of France, or ganized in 1789, through a thorough convic-tion of the French people that the extra vagance and exhausting wars of Louis XVI had broken down their energies an spirit, and that sweeping reforms in the some years ago. The bird, not yet a body of correct patriots, and left to their successors and constituents many practical and desirable reforms in the civil service of the Government, in its laws and institutions. It met, therefore, with prompt recognition from the patriots of France, and won, as it deserved, their confidence and respect. It recognized a government that commanded the respect of mankind and administered it during its ascendancy with vigor, prudence, and ability. It was followed by two other popular assemblies, the latter of which immers-ed Paris in the blood of thousands of innocent citizens and made it familiar with the horrid butcheries and massacres known to every school boy. . BIDER This Assembly decreed the death of the King and opened the prisons to the slaughter of the brutal mob. We find in the present mob in control of Paris, many spirits of like temper and ability. The insurrection, organized without provocation, led by men of inferior ability, inspired by nothing noble or patriotic, seems destined to have a short and unenviable existence. The news we give this morning is very encouraging for the friends of the Versailles Government. The Nationals seemed to rely more upon the disaffection of the Versailles troops than upon their own valor. The result must surely hispire confidence throughout the provinces in Thiers and his asseriates, and would seem to warrant the belief that they would soon re-establish order and tranquility even among the turbulent spirits that throng the streets of Paris.

We have exposed fraud and corruption wherever we found it, and in doing so have not acted for the benefit of any one man or set of men, but solely for the good of the people—the tax-payers of the country. We have not filled our columns with violent and malicious abuse of our opponents or of their measures, to the exclusion of news and information, for that is not our idea of the province of journalism. Our readers want the news, faithfully and reliably compiled, and this we have tried to give them. In addition to this, we have questions, and if we have not gone far He began his political life as a member enough in denunciation to suit some, it is because we do not believe that the best way to reason with the great mass of our readavention ever held of the Republican ers. We have given the latest, fullest and most reliable news, both foreign and domestic; accurate lic life, he died poor in this world's goods market reports; appropriate agricultural news and items for the home circle; home nees from every county and section; poet-ry, humor, scientific news, and a weekly story interesting to all classes. What we have done in the year just ended is some guarantee of what we will do hereafter. We propose to make each year an improvement on the preceding. We have slightly changed the dress of our paper, and thereby added to its appearance. We shall give more reading matter in the coming year, and make the CHRONICLE in every respect a more welcome visitor than

We send this number to some bers who have not yet renewed for the second year. We do not want to lose a single reader. There is not a man on our list who is not able to pay for a paper, if he thinks so. The sum is small and can be raised by every one of our readers. If they cannot and will report to us, we will try and make some arrangement with them to let them have their paper. We want to place the CHRONICLE in every household. for we do not believe any family circle can afford to do without a good weekly paper.

Children ought to be taught to read the papers, and to take an interest in what is going on in the world in which they are soon to play an active part. We say, therefore, to every one of our readers, renew your subscription some way, and keep up with the progress of the age.

We wish to express our thanks te our many friends who have aided us in circulating the Chronicle, and to assure them that we appreciate their efforts in our behalf. We thank our readers for their patronage, and hope to continue our weekly visits until we become such good friends that we cannot afford to disagree or to separate.

It is warranted to remove Lace, Ticks, Fleas, and every other kind of Vermin from Hors, Cattle, Sheep, Horses and Fowls. This is the only remedy that will kill Vermin without injury to the Stock. It is perfectly harmless to the skin. It will not remove the hair, like many of the worthless articles now used. There is not a farmer but what loses Stock enough in one year, by the affects of Lice, Ticks, &c., to support their families. A few bottles of BOWLUS' STOCK VERMIN EXTERMINATOR would save them hundreds of dollars worth of Stock overy year. It is just as easy to keep Stock free from Vermin as to keep them lows, and it only requires one-half of the feed to keep Stock that are free from Vermin that it does those that are lowy. Keep your flogs and Fowis free from lice, and you will suffer no loss from the effects of Cholers. We have the highest preefs of its superior effects. It is, in fact, a life preserver to all kinds of Stock and Fowis.

Every farmer should keep a stock of the Vermin Exterminator on hand, so as to use it whomever necessary, and thereby save his Stock. It should be used by every sheep raiser on his sheep. It will destray all the lies and prevent the sheep from losing their wood. It keeps horse free from dandraf, and exterminates all lice, and leaves the hair smooth and glossy. It should be used on all milk cows frequently, so as to keep them free from Lice and Ticks, as they create a fiver, and the fiver three up the milk and soon turns into more fatal diseases. As a Stock Limitment it has no superior for Stoomy, Sprains, Stiffe, Scratches, Wasnada, de.
